

Brookfield Asset Management

Background on the company	Brookfield Asset Management (“BAM” or “Brookfield”) is a leading global alternative asset manager with over US$1 trillion of assets under management across real estate, infrastructure, renewable power and transition, private equity and credit. Brookfield owns and operates long-life assets and businesses, many of which form the backbone of the global economy. Utilizing its global reach, access to large-scale capital and operational expertise, Brookfield offers a range of alternative investment products to investors around the world—including public and private pension plans, endowments and foundations, sovereign wealth funds, financial institutions, insurance companies and private wealth investors. Brookfield Asset Management Ltd. (BAM) is a public company listed on the NYSE and TSX stock exchanges.
What you will be working on	We strive to embed sustainability practices throughout our business, underpinning our goal of fostering a positive work environment and having a positive impact on the communities and environment within which we operate. There is one internship available and by working with Brookfield, you’ll be supporting the development and implementation of strategic and operational firm-wide sustainability initiatives, supporting our business groups and investment teams. Key responsibilities include researching and preparing reports on sustainability frameworks and best practices, providing insights and perspectives on investor’s needs (including benchmarking commitments of other asset managers) and recommending key areas of disclosure for future years’ sustainability reporting, including decarbonization and other climate impact metrics. You will be supporting with due diligence and other reporting requests from LPs and be responsible for maintaining the latest firm-level sustainability messaging within our internal database.

	You'll also be supporting with Sustainability reporting including facilitating sustainability data collection for rating agencies and reporting frameworks, including Principles of Responsible Investment (PRI) reporting . You will also have the opportunity to work with business teams to assess, tailor and implement sustainability industry best practices across the organization.
Team	You will be working as part of the Sustainability Management team at BAM.
Timing	The timing of this internship can be aligned to the student's academic year, either: • To take place over the student's summer break or to fit a programme-specific internship window (6-12 weeks); or • An end of study internship (up to 6 months, or potentially longer).
Location	The location of this internship will be in Toronto, Canada .
Eligibility	Open to all business, accounting, and sustainability students eligible to enter the A4S International Case Competition, subject to the right to work in the relevant location. A candidate shortlist will be selected from internship applicants whose team also reaches the semi-finals of the competition.
Remuneration	The internship will be paid. Remuneration will be benchmarked at the local rate for undergraduate/graduate interns, as appropriate.
Other key points of note	Interns will be responsible for any visa, relocation, accommodation and subsistence costs arising out of the internship (whilst working at the base location). Expenses incurred during the internship will be subject to our Expense Policy. Paid time off will be provided in line with local labour regulations. Public holidays in the base location will also be honoured.

Brookfield is offering internship opportunities alongside the A4S International Case Competition as a way to reach talented students interested in the business. All internship applications from students who reach the semi-finals of the competition will be presented to Brookfield for their assessment. The identification of candidates selected for an internship will be solely at Brookfield's discretion. By submitting an internship application, you are confirming your understanding that A4S are not responsible nor liable for any aspect of the internship selection, appointment or experience.